Graeme Duncan CEO of Right to Succeed

Right to Succeed is a charity that works to strengthen communities and systems that enable children and young people to succeed. Graeme set up the charity in 2015 after 12 years working in education, fundraising and policy. In 2003, Graeme was the first graduate hired by Teach First. He is passionate about collective working and establishing a place-based change approach to create strong communities where every child is supported to succeed.
